

I feel that Weather/Traffic information for motorists is a valueable and important piece of information. I feel as an XM subscriber that XM should be able to provide a service to it's subscribers and listeners. XM radio is along the same lines as the newspaper or the Weather Channel. People subscribe to the service because it offers good entertainment and information that is important. Even though the service does not offer the area I live in yet I still feel it is a valuable tool for motorists.
